Cambridge 6th form law conference. Cambridge sixth form law conference.

Staying in Cambridge/Delegates will stay in undergraduate accommodation in one of the Cambridge colleges, to give delegates a unique view of life as a Cambridge student. All meals will be provided from dinner on Monday evening until Thursday breakfast. We aim to provide delegates with a realistic experience of university life. This will involve a certain degree of independence for the delegates while they are at the Conference. For example, walking from venue to venue by themselves. We expect that delegates will use this independence to their advantage and treat this position with respect. To make sure that all Delegates are able to make the most of their experience, we will ask delegates to sign a Delegate Code of Conduct at the start of the Conference. If you have any questions about these expectations, please get in touch. The Conference Committee is on call 24 hours a day throughout the Conference, and each College has a team of Porters on site for 24 hours a day. In the event of an emergency, we will contact the emergency contact provided. Getting to Cambridge/Delegates are asked to make their own arrangements for transportation to and from Cambridge. Further information on where and when to arrive will be available to delegates once they have confirmed their conference place. Law at Cambridge/For questions relating to applications to study at the University of Cambridge, please refer to the University admissions website, and Faculty of Law BA website, or contact the Law Faculty Outreach Team on outreach@law.cam.ac.uk Without coming on CSFLC, there is absolutely no chance that I would have even entertained the idea of applying to Cambridge Ben King, third year Law student and CSFLC Committee Member. The Cambridge University Sixth Form Law Conference (CSFLC) welcomes students from all backgrounds and aims to give a true insight into what it is like to be a Cambridge Law undergraduate. The four day residential event involves lectures given by current Cambridge academics, workshops from city law firms, talks from barristers' chambers and a range of social activities. The conference takes place annually in March. The conference was established in 1973 by a group of Cambridge Law students committed to encouraging the academic study of Law. Today, the CSFLC Student Committee continues to run the event with these aims in mind, working to dispel any preconceptions of Cambridge and to demonstrate that Cambridge University is truly open for anybody with the drive to succeed. Applications for the March 2021 event open on 1 December 2020. The Conference will be running virtually in light of the ongoing pandemic and is open to students meeting widening access and participation criteria. For more information, please see the Conference website. Hi, I am a Year 12 that has applied for the 2020 Conference. Has anyone heard back yet? Also when did everyone apply? Thanks (Original post by dowbt) Hi, I am a Year 12 that has applied for the 2020 Conference. Has anyone heard back yet? Also when did everyone apply? Thanks My daughter applied for a place but hasn't heard back yet. I don't think she is very hopeful as she applied quite late (mid Nov). (Original post by tomato) I also applied, but I think I applied relatively late (Mid-December). They don't have any academic requirements so I think it might be run on a first-come first-serve basis. I haven't heard anything back I think places are allocated broadly on a first-come, first-served basis - but they try to have a maximum of two students from any one school/college. I applied straight away when applications opened so fingers crossed (Original post by dowbt) I applied straight away when applications opened so fingers crossed (Original post by dowbt) I applied straight away when applications opened so fingers crossed (Original post by alexiah) It would be such a good experience (Original post by dowbt) I applied straight away when applications opened so fingers crossed (Original post by alexiah) It would be such a good experience (Original post by alexiah) I applied mid December and received all of my offers within 3 weeks (4 within the first week). It just depends on the course that you are doing. Thanks for your reply - it's not for a place at uni, just a law conference at Cambridge for Y12. Hi, I found out on Tuesday that I got into it. I think the responses are beginning to come in now and will be until the end of January. Hope this helps and you get to do it!! I got a funded place! I'm so scared I'm gonna get looked down upon for being poor lol I applied for a funded place but still haven't heard anything back... I am worried I got a funded place! I accepted it on the 31st. And I emailed the link that Ben person sent me x same all I said was like say I can confirm my place and thanks for giving me a funded place on the programme. I assumed they would respond straight away with the accommodations info (Original post by coolio333) So did I! After accepting your place did they respond to you or? Because I accepted a week ago. How did you accept your place? I asked them about it recently and they confirmed they did my email. I don't think they respond unless you ask! Excited to see you guys there! The Faculty hosts a number of events, major public lectures and conferences over the course of the academic year which alumni and members of the public are welcome to attend. Further details will be added to the page below as they become available. The University of Cambridge holds a number of alumni events throughout the year in various locations around the globe, and an annual Alumni Festival in Cambridge in September. For more information and a full listing of events, please see the Cambridge Development and Alumni Relations website. As part of the Alumni Festival 2019 the Faculty of Law launched Cambridge Women in Law (CWIL) marking the centenary of the passing of the Sex Disqualification (Removal) Act 1919, when women were finally allowed to practise law. All Cambridge graduates are welcome to participate. For more information about CWIL, you can sign up to the CWIL mailing list to receive information about future news and events, or get in touch with the Faculty Development Officer, Clare Gordon at cwil@glaw.cam.ac.uk.
